

Webinar Invitation: WHY IS IDENTITY CRITICAL TO INTERNET SECURITY?

Submitted by: Jane Folwell

Monday, 16 January 2012

Webinar Invitation

The Jericho Forum's Identity Commandments

(<http://www.opengroup.org/jericho/Jericho%20Forum%20Identity%20Commandments%20v1.0.pdf>) the benchmark for evaluating identity solutions

Wednesday, 18 January 2012

16:00 GMT (11:00 EST)

In a one-hour webinar open to all, key visionaries from the Jericho Forum address the burning issues pertaining to Identity Access and Identity Management for business today. They will cover:

- the Jericho Forum Identity Commandments – why are these so relevant for national government and for all organisations developing identity schemes today?
- the Jericho Forum response to the US Government NSTIC initiative, the White House initiative for improving identity in cyberspace and will comment on other national identity initiatives in development in the UK and rest of the EEC. What are the key principles critical for a global, scalable and manageable trusted identity scheme?

User-centricity is central to any viable global identity scheme as the Jericho Forum will demonstrate. The individual citizen must be in control of their own identity.

Take-aways from this webinar will be a better understanding of why Identity is critical to the future of Internet Security and the importance of Identity from a personal, business and even global viewpoint.

The presenters will suggest key actions Information Security and IT Professionals can and should be implementing today to ensure optimal ability to leverage Identity within their organisations.

- Paul Simmonds, Jericho Forum board member and founding member
- Adrian Seccombe, Jericho Forum board member and founding member

To register: click on the URL below:

<https://opengroupevents.webex.com/ec0605ld/eventcenter/enroll/join.do?siteurl=opengroupevents&confId=280169381>

For further information contact:

Ian Dobson, Director, Jericho Forum

Tel: +44 (0)191 236 4102

Email: i.dobson@opengroup.org.

or (press enquiries only)

Jane Folwell, Folwell PR
Tel: + 44 (0)1344 845132
Email: jane@folwellpr.co.uk