23 January 2012

Building on a very successful year of business in 2011, SilverBug, the outsourcing (<http://silverbug.com>) company is marking the New Year by expanding and opening a satellite office in central Leeds.

This development signposts the way for further business growth for SilverBug in 2012.

Commenting on the new office, Owen Daley, Managing Director, SilverBug said, "Opening our first Northern UK office is an extension of the great customer service we are known for. Since SilverBug started 8 years ago, we have worked to earn a reputation for making IT accessible and uncomplicated for Small and Medium sized businesses. This new office in Leeds allows us to be closer to our Northern based customers and to ensure that we can meet their needs better."

"I'm confident that 2012 will see us open other regional operations, as we continue to provide straightforward, reliable IT solutions of the highest quality. We will continue to add local Yorkshire based staff, as customer demand grows." concluded Owen Daley

The SilverBug premises are 2 The Calls, Leeds, LS2 7JU. Further details can be obtained from SilverBug on 01908 863 300.
