Insight (<http://uk.insight.com>), one of the world's leading technology companies, has announced that it has successfully completed the acquisition of Frankfurt-based Inmac, a broad portfolio B2B hardware reseller based in Germany and The Netherlands servicing clients across Western Europe.

"We are pleased with the speed in which we have been able to complete the regulatory formalities of this transaction and teams of Insight and Inmac teammates are already working hard on integrating the two businesses," commented Stuart Fenton, President of Insight EMEA.

"We are extremely excited about the opportunity that the combination of our two companies provides us with to expand the hardware, software and IT services that we provide to our clients across continental Europe," added Mr Fenton.
