Coral.co.uk, the UK's number one online betting and gaming operator, is looking forward to this year's Cheltenham Festival and creating some great deals for its customers on one of the big races of the meeting, the 2012 Coral Cup at 4pm on Wednesday 14th.

Coral is offering '5 played places' on the Coral Cup, which means that if you bet on the race with Coral, should your horse finish in any of the top 5 positions, YOU WIN.

Coral is also offering 'Daily Money Back Specials' on select horses finishing 2nd to the race favourite, and money back on non-runners. This means that customers backing the 2nd place horse or a non-runner will get their money back if the race favourite wins.

And for any customer who places a £5 bet on the first race of the day, Coral will offer them a free £5 bet (<http://www.coral.co.uk/cheltenham-2012>) on the last race of that day.

To top it all, customers laying any bet have the chance to win £10,000 every day of the festival. All they have to do is lay the bet successfully to be entered into a spot draw for that day's £10,000 prize.

Simon Clare PR Director at Coral.co.uk, said: "Cheltenham Festival (<http://www.coral.co.uk/cheltenham-2012>) is a great social and sporting occasion, and we are committed to our customers enjoying it to the full. We want people to get the most out of the Coral Cup and the rest of the racing programme, so we've put together a great promotion. We hope existing and new customers of coral.co.uk have a great festival and look forward to some excellent National Hunt racing over the next couple of days."

Coral.co.uk is the only place to go for all your betting and online gaming.
