(United Kingdom – 20th March 2012) Photos on canvas (<http://www.photosoncanvas.net/>) are looking to change the way people across the country think about and display their photographs. The company offers a unique service which allows customers to transfer photographs on to canvas in a way that homeowners can showcase their favourite memories around the home.

Photos on Canvas offers its customers an eclectic range of canvas print options. From black and white to colour effects and the classic design to split panel canvas prints, whatever style homeowners choose, there is guaranteed to be a smile when the print arrives.

Using the photo canvas service on the site is made simple for customers thanks to the 'How to' video.

After selecting a photograph, Photos on Canvas customers can upload them on to the site where they can be edited and positioned on to a virtual canvas.

Effects and borders can be added to the prints before sending them to be made. Any orders sent before 2pm will be available for free, next day delivery and what's more, each comes with a ten year guarantee to ensure it looks as good as it did when it arrived for years to come.

Homeowners looking to redecorate their homes or who wish to inject some style into their home can find out more about the canvas prints available at Photos on Canvas. Prices start at just £12.99. Visit the site at PhotosonCanvas.net.
