KYOCERA Document Solutions UK Limited unveils two new ECOSYS monochrome A3 MFPs – the FS-6525MFP and the FS-6530MFP. The reliable MFPs are very easy to install and maintain, making them ideal in areas where service staff are not immediately available, such as remote or highly secured locations. The FS-6525MFP and the FS-6530MFP offer great functionality for offices producing low print volumes and their small physical footprint is perfect where space is limited.

Advanced workflows that need more steps to be carried out are easy to customise and install with the newly integrated HyPAS* technology. Both MFPs benefit from this powerful and scalable solution platform that delivers easily customisable workflows. Apart from individual developments customers can use well known applications such as language select, fax connect and Mail2Me which suit innovative customer processes.

The easy to operate devices have wizard navigation to aid set-up and offer great usability for typical activities, such as 'scan to email', which significantly reduces user error and time spent carrying out jobs at the device.

Noriko Ishii, Product Manager at Kyocera Document Solutions explains the rationale behind the new devices: "In today's economic climate our customers need professional A3 MFP functionality wherever they are. The affordably priced FS-6525MFP and FS-6530MFP are robust and easy to operate. They have adopted the award-winning reliability of Kyocera's FS-6025MFP and FS-6030MFP devices which received BLI's Pick of the Year 2011 and Highly Recommended Awards. We aim to build on the success of our previous models with the integration of HyPAS and improved ecology standards."

The FS-6525MFP and the FS-6530MFP are extremely energy conscious with an 18% lower TEC (Typical Energy Consumption) value than their predecessors. As with all Kyocera's ECOSYS products, they benefit from long-life drums and toner-only sustainable technology which ensure high reliability, longer maintenance cycles, low running costs and minimal waste. Kyocera has continuously developed its ECOSYS sustainable print technology which celebrates its 20th anniversary this year.
