Beaconsfield-based asset finance provider WestWon (<http://www.westwon.co.uk>) Limited has moved into prestigious Grade II listed offices in the Old Town. The relocation has come about due to the increasing demand for business equipment leasing (<http://www.westwon.co.uk>) as bank lending remains tight. WestWon has already hired several additional finance professionals this year, and has plans for further expansion before the end of 2012.

The new hub of WestWon's UK-wide operations is the former rectory-house in Windsor End. Overlooking the church yard, the timbered building dates from the early 16th century. The interior has been tastefully refitted for business yet retains many original features including open fireplaces and oak beams.

Founded 7 years ago, WestWon offers a comprehensive range of range of tax-efficient finance options (<http://www.westwon.co.uk>) to help organisations in the area manage their cash flow more effectively, while preserve existing lines of credit.

Chief Executive Officer Jeremy Hall (<http://www.westwon.co.uk>) explains. "The move to the Old Rectory has come at the perfect time for us. Asset finance (<http://www.westwon.co.uk>) now helps to fund 27% of all fixed-capital investment in the UK, and over the last 12 months, we have certainly noticed much more optimism - customers are investing in their businesses again and seeing lease finance as a smart way of acquiring the equipment they need."

The company has published a new telephone number for equipment leasing enquiries Tel: 01496 611 456. The new address in full is The Old Rectory, Windsor End, Beaconsfield, HP9 2JW.
