

Suffolk pared back elegance proves a winning formula in interiors

Submitted by: Amino PR Limited

Wednesday, 13 June 2012

The Suffolk kitchen range, introduced by Neptune last year, has far exceeded expectations. There seems to be a definite trend appearing towards the Shaker style. Contemporary, pared back shaker-inspired clean crisp lines of the Suffolk range display an elegance that is proving to be very popular in interiors.

One of its secrets to success is the wide variety of choice in wall cabinets and base cabinets, offered in varying sizes, it ensures the customer can plan to maximize every available space and create a bespoke feel but without the bespoke price tag!

Neptune design and make the Suffolk style in freestanding pieces for the kitchen as well as many interior pieces to provide co-ordination across the whole home.

True to the Neptune ethos of designing and making furniture to last, traditional construction methods are used alongside the latest technology. Mortise and tenon traditional framing with dowel locks combine with the latest dimmed lighting and concealed glass shelving for storage and display. Neptune's own new magnetic close system provides the finest finishing touches where every detail is taken care of. All are lovingly crafted, using age old techniques where each piece is made with longevity in mind, for future generations to also enjoy.

For further information please contact Natasha or Julie at Amino on 0207 084 6212 natasha@aminocms.com / julie@aminocms.com