Theale, Reading, UK, 25th June 2012. Integralis (<http://www.integralis.com>), a global provider of IT Security and Information Risk Management solutions (<http://www.integralis.com>), today announces that it has been recognised by F5, the global leader in Application Delivery Networking (ADN) with its prestigious EMEA Customer Support Partner of the Year Award at the F5 AGILITY Summit 2012, held in London.

Integralis has been awarded the F5 EMEA Customer Support Partner of the Year Award in recognition of the investment and the quality of the Support services it has delivered in collaboration with F5 to its customers.

“F5 has worked closely with Integralis for more than a decade.” said Michael Schoenrock, Director Channel Sales, EMEA at F5. “Over the course of the relationship, Integralis has constantly invested in, and delivered support services around, our ADN solutions – especially F5’s security offerings - of the highest quality, helping grow and maintain a healthy, diversified customer base. They are a worthy recipient of our Partner of the Year award for customer support.”

On receiving the award, Simon Church, Chief Operating Officer at Integralis, said: “We have developed a close working relationship with F5 and we are delighted that the strength and success of this collaboration has been recognised with this award. Integralis has a reputation for delivering excellence and for forging strong relationships with our leading edge partners. We continue to invest to ensure that our teams have unparalleled expertise and experience.”

The F5 Awards recognise F5 partner community members that display pre- and post-sales technical excellence, commitment to customer service, knowledge of and focus on strategic F5 solutions, and sales engagement excellence.

F5 is one of Integralis’ core vendor partners and the companies are currently working on a number of projects across a variety of customer sectors. Integralis has been a Gold partner since 2000 and part of the F5 UNITY partner program since its introduction in April 2010.
