Leading business software solutions provider, m-hance, is a finalist in the 2012 Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference Awards within the 'Microsoft Dynamics Regional Partner of the Year' category. m-hance has been shortlisted for this award in recognition of its outstanding business growth during the last 12 months, high levels of customer satisfaction and innovative solutions which complement the Microsoft platform. The award winners will be announced at the Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference on 11 July 2012 at the Fairmont Royal York, Toronto, Canada.

Each year, the Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference (WPC) Awards recognise partners who have performed exceptionally during the last 12 months and delivered exemplary solutions built on Microsoft technologies. The key judging criteria consisted of sales performance, technical expertise on Microsoft Dynamics products and services (<http://www.m-hance.com/channel-partners/overview/>) and dedication to delivering solutions that meet diverse customer needs. This year's WPC awards, which will be presented in multiple categories, attracted nearly 3,000 entries from more than 100 countries.

Andrew Hayward, Managing Director of m-hance, comments, "We are delighted to reach the final of these prestigious awards which reflects the great strides that m-hance has made in such a short time. By acquiring, integrating and rebranding a number of leading technology companies m-hance is now firmly established as the fastest-growing provider of innovative business software solutions to mid-sized organisations in the UK with strong reoccurring revenues and a truly global presence. This breadth of experience, combined with our speed of change, helps us to stay innovative."

Hayward continues, "Our customers can feel assured that they are working with a stable and agile organisation who is at the forefront of developing, implementing and deploying pioneering solutions which add further value to Microsoft's technologies to improve operational performance and productivity."

m-hance (<http://www.m-hance.com/>) was formed on 1st November 2011 through the acquisition of leading technology providers who had been in business for more than 20 years. m-hance has undergone rapid growth in the last six months and is the UK's fastest-growing provider of innovative business software solutions to mid-sized organisations and the largest Microsoft Dynamics partner in the UK and Ireland. Today m-hance employs 230 staff serving 2,400 customers from five major UK locations as well as operations in Ireland, the USA and India.

In addition, m-hance has also been invited to the 2012 President's Club and earned membership to the 2012 Inner Circle for Microsoft Dynamics. These prestigious groups represent the top five per cent of Microsoft Dynamics partners worldwide who reach key business milestones while maintaining a constant dedication to achieving high levels of customer satisfaction and an active pursuit of product and technological advancement.
