WishFree.com, the new social prize-grabbing site that combines online 'daily deals' with a click-to-win format is announcing a number of new competitions giving players more opportunities to win big prizes daily, for free.

PrePlay

WishFree.com is offering players the opportunity to PrePlay games before they go live, giving them the flexibility to log-on and participate in any WishFree.com game at their convenience, regardless of when that game ends. The concept is simple – once logged on to WishFree.com, players can take part in PrePlay games by simply clicking 'grab' to become the current 'holder' of the prize. PrePlay mode is accessible anytime up to 5 minutes prior to that game going live. At this point, players can choose to 'lock in' their results, which will be counted towards the live game or play again to try and beat their previous score.

Zak Shah, CEO of WishFree.com said: "PrePlay adds excitement to WishFree.com games, giving users a greater chance to win big prizes by enabling them to play games that are ending in the future straight away. In effect, PrePlay, enhances the entertainment and interactivity elements of the WishFree.com gaming experience, because it encourages players to compete with one another, by actively seeking to better their score with each play."

Vote to Win

Alongside PrePlay, WishFree.com is to introduce a new competition to its player community, which will enable individuals to nominate themselves for a chance to win daily prizes without taking part in WishFree.com games. Instead, players will be given the opportunity to provide a description as to why they deserve to win, or, what they are willing to do to win. The winning player, voted on by fellow WishFree.com users as the most deserving will receive the daily prize – increasing the social media sharing aspect of WishFree.com's games.

Amir Khan Competition

An exclusive competition is currently being run by WishFree.com, which is giving users a chance to win 2 tickets to watch the Amir Khan Vs Danny Garcia boxing match live at the Mandalay Bay Hotel, Las Vegas, on 14th July, 2012. To enter, participants must state why they should win the tickets, submit their answer online and encourage votes from friends, family and other players. The top 2 answers based on number of votes will win the tickets along with paid travel expenses to Las Vegas and an exclusive t-shirt of their choice from the AK shop. In addition, 10 runners up will also receive an AK t-shirt. The competition will end on 10th July, 2012.

WishFree.com officially launched on Wednesday 27th June, 2012. For a chance to win exclusive tickets and prizes, go to www.wishfree.com or visit the WishFree.com Facebook page.
