The Telford printer Graphics and Print have announced an amazing opportunity to win £500 worth of free graphic design time, courtesy of their creative design studio. Everyone who uses the studio between now and the end of September 2012, will automatically be entered into a free prize draw where one lucky winner will win this fantastic prize. Here's Managing Director Martin Kells to explain more:

"Graphics and Print has a reputation for delivering quality print but in addition to being an award winning commercial printer (<http://www.graphicsandprint.com>), we also have an in-house design studio that boasts award winning talent. Yet when people talk about our company, they tend to refer to the print side of the business rather than our design work. So we've decided to run a fun competition to help show case the talent we have within our creative design studio. For every business that uses the studio throughout the month of September, we will enter them into a free prize draw and one lucky winner will walk away with £500 worth of free design time. When you consider that we have award winning designers within our studio, this is an amazing offer that provides the equivalent of nearly two days' worth of graphic design time, free of charge. All you have to do to enter, is put our studio to the test during September and you are automatically entered!"

The offer runs until the end of September 2012 and the winner will have up to two years to use their prize. The £500 worth of design time doesn't have to be used in one go and can be split over multiple tasks. The winner does not have to use the award in conjunction with any other service provided by the Telford printers.

Graphics and Print have been supporting customers to design things ranging from typical business stationery to animated e-newsletters and presentations for over 30 years and they have a great mix of designers, some with vast experience of the design and print industry and others who are new to print but who bring fresh, modern and creative ideas. The combination means that they can provide the best of both worlds in terms of creative design. In 2012, one of their designers won an award, beating competition from hundreds of designers from around the world, to design the Liverpool FC Twitter page. Graphics and Print are currently on the preferred suppliers list of some of the UK's biggest organisations – testament again to the quality they provide, not only through their award winning print but also through their creative designs. One of the most popular elements of the service they provide is that unlike some design studios, Graphics and Print actively encourage customers to speak directly with the designers. Whereas some of agencies make you talk with sales teams or account executives and charge you for the privilege, Graphics and Print believe in clients working directly with the designers to ensure they deliver exactly what you need. And if that's not enough, Graphics and Print recognise that many of its customers need to make multiple amendments to their initial designs and this can prove costly, with some agencies charging for alternations at an hourly rate. At Graphics and Print, they do not charge for:

- Author's corrections
- Hard copy proofs after amendments
- PDFs
- And, we don't pass on overtime costs.

So whether you are looking for a new brand identity or company logo, or simply creative design, Graphics and Print have a team of experts ready to meet your every need. And now there's an added incentive to using them, with the potential to win £500 worth of their design time, totally free of charge!
