

The Polyphonic Spree - 'Rocky Horror Picture Show' Halloween Spectacular

Submitted by: Tracy Gosling

Thursday, 11 October 2012

The Polyphonic Spree

Halloween Spectacular

The full choir performing songs from

The Rocky Horror Picture Show

31st October 2012

HMV Forum, London

24 hour ticket hotline: 08700 603 777

Online bookings: www.seetickets.com

Tickets £22.50 (plus booking fee)

Doors 7pm

All ticket buyers turning up in fancy dress to this special Polyphonic Spree show will get a free Halloween drink!

Come and celebrate Halloween a little differently this year with The Polyphonic Spree (<http://www.thepolyphonicspree.com>), as they play their only London show this year – with a seasonal twist.

On 31st October, HMV Forum will see the legendary symphonic band tackle the world-renowned cult classic Rocky Horror Picture Show in their own inimitable, offbeat fashion. Fans of the Spree's previous albums such as "The Beginning Stages Of..." and "The Fragile Army" will also be treated to some of the band's incredible back catalogue, and revellers who turn up in fancy dress will receive a drinks voucher as part of their ticket purchase – it's all part of what will surely be an amazing night to remember.

Lead vocalist, and founding member, Tim DeLaughter is available for telephone interview.

Essential Weblinks

The Polyphonic Spree (official website): www.thepolyphonicspree.com

For more information, please contact:

Tracy Gosling – Tracy Gosling PR

Email: info@tracygoslingpr.com / Tel: 07779 109 540