Chak 89, the award winning Indian restaurant based in Mitcham, Surrey was struck again by a host of stars arriving for a Function hosted by Chak 89's sister company Elbrook Cash and Carry Ltd.

Actors, singers, pin ups, boxers, footballers and presenters descended on the famous venue for an evening of fun, food and drinks.

Elbrook Cash and Carry who owns the venue Chak 89 restaurant and banqueting, was hosting their yearly charity gala night, this year in aid of the Sue Ryder Charity. In previous years other charity organisations which have benefitted from Elbrook Gala Nights include, Autism Anglia, OneLife and Shooting Star.

The night was full of fun and action as Chak 89 prepared for what was the most impressive event yet, the menu which started off with eight varieties of exquisite Chak 89 Canapés ended up with 8 varieties of tantalising Chak 89 main courses with champagne flowing all evening.

During the event a staggering £15,000 was raised in aid of Sue Ryder from auctions of memorabilia, to have a sparring match with boxer David Haye, a regular at Chak 89, at his sparring gym in Vauxhall, London.

Frank the owner of Elbrook Cash and Carry and Chak 89 was over the moon with the turn out and praised everyone's efforts and support, during his speech he said, "Tonight everyone in this room is a hero by helping Elbrook raise money for Sue Ryder, thank you."

For Chak 89 it was another fantastic night of fun, as expressed by the clients upon leaving, "Chak 89 A Memorable Experience."
