

A Hint Of Noir...The Sinister Side To Flirtatious Fashion

Submitted by: Honour Ltd.

Monday, 12 November 2012

Immerse yourself in the darker side of luxury fashion with Honour's (<http://www.honour.co.uk/>) new A Hint of Noir collection...

Inspired by European designs the online retail giant's latest range has focused on one of the hottest and sexiest materials of the 21st century – latex (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-rubber-clothing.php>). Honour's (<http://www.honour.co.uk/>) have been using latex (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-rubber-clothing.php>) ever since they started trading back in 1988 but the style has boomed in the last few years with celebrities across the globe wearing bespoke latex designs on the catwalks, red carpets and award ceremonies prompting a resurgence of the material in mainstream fashion.

From actresses Angelina Jolie (<http://latexr.com/category/angelina-jolie>) and Eva Mendes (<http://latexr.com/eva-mendes-in-latex-corset/eva-mendes-in-latex>) to singers Cheryl Cole (<http://latexr.com/category/cheryl-cole>), Rihanna (<http://latexr.com/category/rihanna>), Beyoncé (<http://latexr.com/category/beyonce-giselle-knowles>) and Lady Gaga (<http://latexr.com/category/lady-gaga>) – latex clothing is now one of the hottest properties amongst the stars... and it's getting hotter!

Exclusive to Honour their A Hint of Noir (<http://www.honour.co.uk/catalogue/hint-of-noir.php>) collection combines elegant sleek designs with raw edgy undertones that draw influence from the French and Japanese fashion scene. The skin-tight fabric enhances the curves and contours of the body to breath confidence and a sense of authority. Whilst the black/transparent colour blend offers a teasingly pleasing appearance of endearment.

Sultry, sinister and sexy are all words that can be used to describe this latest range and Honour's (<http://www.honour.co.uk/>) designers have worked hard to achieve a new style of fashion which pushes the boundaries of the conventional 'kinky' to new depths. 2013 has come early for Honour as they continue to look forward to new and innovative ways to dominate the market trend and challenge the perceptions of common attire.

Their avant-garde style of boudoir/street-wear in the Noir collection is anticipated to kick up quite a storm with outfits such as the Cigarello Corsette (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-cigarello-corsette.php>) and Vertigo Catsuit (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-vertigo-catsuit.php>) already demanding re-orders in time for the Christmas rush. Stockings (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-rubber-clothing/rubber-wear/stockings-gloves.php>), basques (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-rubber-clothing/rubber-wear/corsets-basques.php>) and pencil skirts (<http://www.honour.co.uk/latex-rubber-clothing/rubber-wear/skirts-leggings.php>) are nothing new to the fashion scene – but Honour's (<http://www.honour.co.uk/>) latest spin on mainstream fashion has rocked the boat on what the general public now believe acceptable in modern day society.

If you're looking for that certain je ne sais quoi this Christmas then this is one range that can't be ignored. From the simple to the sublime – step out of the light and see what the luxury of Noir (<http://www.honour.co.uk/catalogue/hint-of-noir.php>) has to offer...