

New Classically Modern Website Ready and Raring to Go for 2013

Submitted by: Rippleffect

Friday, 21 December 2012

Classically Modern (<http://classicallymodern.co.uk/>), formerly known as Stocked Up, is delighted announce that the new website is online and looking superb. Specialising in high quality furniture for the home, the site still provides the same fantastic customer service and now boasts an even more diverse range of products. Stocking everything from painted pine to classic oak furniture, the site could well be ideal for anyone wanting to invest in some amazing home décor in the New Year.

The new brand says it all about this retailer, all of their products truly are classically modern and there are items for any living space. Whether customers are going for shabby chic, modern or perhaps an elegant Victorian feel – there will be the perfect product on the site.

Classically Modern also runs regular special offers. For example, at the moment customers can take advantage of the following when ordering from the site:

Malvern Solid Oak 3 Drawer Console Table for £279

Cartmel Solid Oak 3 Door Sideboard for £379

Mobel Oak Four Drawer Coffee Table £295

The two man free delivery service also means that getting top quality classically modern furniture to the home really couldn't be easier. What's more, delivery is free of charge and can even be with the customer within 14 working days – which given the premium nature of the products is impressive to say the least.

Not only are there all sorts of furniture items for the home available, but there is also a large range of garden furniture to choose from as well.

To see the fantastic 2013 solid oak range (<http://classicallymodern.co.uk/category/Oak>) for yourself. Alternatively, customers can call the Classically Modern team on 0330 999 0485.