supperclub, the world-famous address for exquisite fine dining, artistic entertainment and sensational hospitality from Amsterdam, Holland, is soon to open its first venue in Dubai.

A creative restaurant and lounge concept, the Middle East's first supperclub, set in the luxurious Jumeirah Zabeel Saray, is being brought to the region by supperclub Middle East Facilities Management LLC in collaboration with Jumeirah Zabeel Saray.

The Dubai outlet follows the footsteps of famed venues in Amsterdam, Istanbul, San Francisco, Los Angeles and London, each rooted in the respective city's artistic expression with cutting edge art, fine dining and spectacular entertainment.

Yassin Matbouly, a Middle East based businessman and partner of supperclub Middle East Facilities Management LLC, said: "Dubai is renowned for its outstanding luxury hospitality, and with supperclub Dubai, we are delivering an entirely new concept for the region, aimed at diversifying the sector, which has witnessed incremental growth in recent years. At supperclub Dubai, guests can relish the finest fine dining experience, complemented by spellbinding cultural experiences that will be unsurpassed for its dynamism, verve and creativity."

Bert Van der Leden, the brain behind the supperclub franchise, and partner at owning company IQ Creative, added: "supperclub was born out of our desire to be different, to offer our guests unexpected, unconventional venues highlighted by fine food, creativity and a sense of experimentation. The city's burgeoning art scene, its position as the region's cosmopolitan hub, and stunning Zabeel Saray setting made Dubai an obvious choice for our new venture."

The dramatic two floored design, by award-winning Concrete Architectural Associates, offers six dining and entertainment options where guests can indulge in experimental dishes from famed Head Chef Dom Robinson. The dine-in venues include the chef's tables, 'Salle Neige' and gold room 'Salle d'Or' while vivacious beverages are served from the sumptuous 'Balcony Noir' bar and 'Bar rouge' with sweeping ocean views from the alfresco terrace.

The choreographed entertainment, set amidst the fine dining ambience, will range from aerial and acrobatic artists, inspiring musicians and showcases by international and local creative talent, all designed to stimulate the senses.

Christophe Mousset, hotel manager, Jumeirah Zabeel Saray, commented: "We are delighted that Jumeirah Zabeel Saray is home to the supperclub phenomenon. The venue will add a new dimension to Palm Jumeirah's nightlife experiences, complementing the resort's luxury hospitality offering."
