

Coping stones galore and much more at leading stone supplier

Submitted by: London Stone

Thursday, 11 July 2013

---

One of the UK's top natural stone suppliers is looking forward to a bumper summer of activity but is keen to point out that there is a lot more on than just standard stones and coping stones (<http://www.londonstone.com/>) on offer at their showroom.

London Stone is one of most respected names in the business and they are relishing a busy few months ahead. Not bad for a company that came about a little bit by accident! It appears that the Walley brothers who established London Stone were originally running a landscaping business, but as they started importing stone to use in their work, this took them in a different direction entirely. The company, formed in 2005, is now one of the busiest around, and with the economy looking up, more people are making a trip to see what they have on offer.

'We really are expecting things to be getting very busy over the next few months with many people looking to have the work done on their gardens that they have possibly been putting off until things looked up in the world of work', explained director Duncan Walley. 'That time seems to be now and we are already seeing more and more enquiries for many of our products and services. The diary is already looking pretty full!'

It seems that the team at London Stone have been preparing for an upturn in the economy and have been busy with putting together a brand new showroom in West London. This is a smart new showroom that will allow visitors to checkout the superb range of materials on offer including sandstone, limestone, slate, granite, basalt and travertine. The stone is sourced from many locations worldwide including Asia and Europe, but at the same time London Stone ensure that it is ethically sourced.

'A bit of sunshine is often all it takes for people to start looking at their homes and get them thinking about making major changes', explained Duncan Walley. 'Sunshine tends to make you feel more like getting those changes made that you have been thinking of for a while. And with the property market getting back on track, we will be seeing a lot more people looking to add stone to their homes.'

If you are interested in the many products on offer from London Stone be they coping stones, slabs or anything else, visit their website today at www.londonstone.com/exterior-stone-paving/coping-stone/ .

For quotes, please speak to Duncan Walley on 01753 212 950: or Email: info@londonstone.com