Suffolk-based SEO firm, Seomers.co.uk (<http://www.seomers.co.uk/>), led by digital marketer Daniel Somers, expanded its business premises to Hadleigh Business Centre in April. The firm, which has been operating for more than 18 months, works for clients in the travel, insurance, IT and haulage sectors.

Daniel and his team of accomplished search marketers thrive off the challenge of improving organic search results in the post-Panda and Penguin 2.0 climate and have already received significant praise for their methods, described as a “Tour de Force that will surely be of interest to those who really want to get the kind of quality site analysis and top rankings they have been looking for”.

For businesses concerned about outsourcing a client’s SEO requirements, Seomers.co.uk offers a fully white-labelled search engine optimisation reseller (<http://www.seomers.co.uk/white-label-seo-reseller>) solution. This enables firms to supply search marketing campaigns under their own guise whilst Daniel and his team take care of all of the work.

Firms receive their own reporting system that can be passed on to clients courtesy of Seomers.co.uk’s data. All link building activity carried out is professionally documented and presented in a clear and concise format that can help make a favourable impression for any forward-thinking agency.

It is the personal touch that drives Daniel and his team forward, with the passion and commitment to giving small and medium-sized businesses in Suffolk and beyond a chance to enhance their digital exposure.

Daniel Somers (<http://www.seomers.co.uk/>), founder of Seomers.co.uk, commented:

“My team and I pride ourselves on providing a unique approach to digital marketing for small businesses across the Eastern region.

“We are passionate about enhancing local brands and no longer do we focus on tired manual link building methods; our multi-faceted approach will stand the test of time in major search engines going forward.

“We are 100% accountable and professional, earning the trust of our many clients that pay for our white label reseller SEO solutions.”
