Harrier is SecurSolution Provider of the Year

Reading, Berks - 05 July 2000 Harrier Group plc (AIM: HRR), a leading integrator of both Internet and network security, and advanced data protection, announced today that it has won RSA Security's, EMEA SecurSolution Provider of the Year for the second consecutive time. This prestigious award was presented to Harrier by Art Coviello, CEO & President, of RSA Security at the EMEA Partner Conference, in Fuengirola, Spain last month.

Terry Radford, Managing Director of Harrier commented, "We are thrilled to receive recognition of our achievements from RSA Security again this year. This award is a reflection of our continuing commitment to assist our clients in securing and enabling e-business through strategic partnerships and innovative solutions."

Harrier, who supply UK corporates with more of RSA Security's products than any other integrator, takes an independent approach to providing total security systems integration ensuring that whether a company requires a total solution or simply a strong authentication device, it offers the best security technology and expertise available.

Harrier Zeuros, the operating company of Harrier Group plc, leads the security market in technical expertise which includes the largest technical knowledge base of RSA Security's latest generation of PKI solution, Keon.
