Linkdex (<http://www.linkdex.com/>) follow US success by winning UK Search Award for Best SEO Software. Making it a clean sweep with wins in both the US and European Search Awards in 2013.

London (UK) – Linkdex, a SaaS marketing platform, have been awarded Best SEO Software at the 2013 UK Search Awards.

The awards, presented at a ceremony on the 14th November at the Emirates Stadium in London, recognize and reward organisations, agencies and individuals based or working in the UK search and digital marketing industry.

Linkdex prevailed over considerable competition to win the coveted award. The award win completes a year of tremendous success for the company, having won the equivalent award at the US search awards in October, and the award for Innovation at the 2013 European Search Awards.

The Linkdex platform unites SEO, content marketing, PR, analytics and social media to offer an integrated solution to digital marketers.

“It's a tremendous honour to win the awards and to be recognized amongst the industry's best. The team at Linkdex have enjoyed a strong year of growth and this is a fantastic reward for all of our hard work.” Mark Smith – Linkdex CEO
