The online gambling specialists at Super Casino are looking forward to the Asian Poker Tour Resorts World Manila event (APT-RWM), held in the Philippines next month, which aims to be the longest continuous poker tournament of all time.

The existing record was set in August 2012 in Delaware by Pete Konas at 36 hours, 34 minutes and 41 seconds, but APT-RWM is hoping that a new record emerges from the upcoming iron man poker challenge. No scheduled breaks are allowed, although players are permitted to leave the table at their own risk! The event, which is being capped at 250 players, sees players starting with a stack of 50,000. The first ten levels will run for 60 minutes, with the next ten at 90 minutes. Any remaining levels beyond level 20 will last a full 2 hours.

The Philippines is still recovering from the devastating effects of Super Typhoon Haiyan, but relief efforts from the poker community have been highly praised.

Specialising in online casino games, Super Casino have a strong interest in poker, offering a great selection of live video poker games (<http://www.supercasino.com/games/video-poker>) and video poker available 24/7. Naturally the team are eager to see if a new world record is made on December 13th. A representative from the firm shares their thoughts on the forthcoming tournament.

“It seems as though the event has been well planned, so we’re reasonably confident that a new record will be set. We’re looking forward to the outcome of the tournament and really pleased to see that it coincides with efforts to help those who have been affected by Haiyan.”
