Jewellery just got a lot sweeter with the Glenda Lopez POPCORN Collection.

Glenda Lopez is known for creating handmade statement jewellery inspired by the things we all love... FOOD! This latest SS14 collection takes the form of necklaces, rings and earrings that all have a sweet twist: they look like colourful popcorn.

Manager of Kuji Shop, Greg Thomas says: "The Glenda Lopez Popcorn Collection is another strong range of fun, statement jewellery that looks great, but is also high quality and an excellent price. Each piece being handmade is really important to us at Kuji Shop. As we move into Spring/Summer 14, the pop art, pastel colours are really on trend. We'll just try not to eat them all..."

Glenda Lopez creates collections, series or unique and exclusive pieces of jewellery in permanent or limited editions. Glenda Lopez attempts to challenge the preconceived ideas of contemporary jewellery, and to reach an alternative public. It is loved by people that consider jewellery to be a special element of their look, but at the same time to be affordable on a price level.

Kuji Shop is an online store that prides itself on bringing customers exclusive pieces that are often one of a kind, hand-made or limited edition. The shop sells a mixture of fashion, accessories and artwork by independent labels, emerging artists, designers and underground brands. Kuji Shop often sells items that are made specifically for the shop and not available anywhere else.

For the right website or publisher, we may be able to send out pieces for review or for free, please contact us.
