Easysshed are pleased to announce a new online interactive generator we have put together. It is to celebrate National Simplify Your Life Week, because most of us would love to simplify our week if we could. The generator gives you the option to select how many free hours you have a week and gives you useful, time-saving tips to help your week feel more relaxed and less busy.

National Simplify Your Life Week takes place from 4th August, it's a week dedicated to organising and de-cluttering your life to ensure you have a more stress-free lifestyle.

We have used different online sources including websites and blogs to find our handy tips to help you save hours in your week.

We have come up with five unique tips for each period of time you have spare from 30 minutes up to 8 hours. All you have to do is select the spare time you have in a week and the generator will take you to day-to-day suggestions to help you save the stress.

Not only that, the generator has a 'Money Saving' button which gives you tips and tricks to help you save money.

It's time to slow down and start enjoying life.
