

World's only immersive talent experience to be held in a secret location

Submitted by: The Chemistry Group

Tuesday, 21 June 2016

At a secret London location on a sunny April evening, The Chemistry Group held the world's first immersive talent experience. Promising to be unlike any other event in its field, the event aimed to blow people's minds and challenge the orthodoxy of recruitment. It delivered on that promise.

The event gave attendees, from businesses like Diageo, KPMG and Three, a truly memorable and unprecedented experience with one guest commenting that:

"it ss on all other events of its kind!"

So it's no surprise that the team at The Chemistry Group have decided to run the event again. Due to high levels of demand, attendees will be chosen by ballot. The ballot will close on 1st July. Successful candidates will be sent more details of the location and proceedings shortly before the date.

The event is being held at 18:15 on 13th July in an undisclosed location in central London.

The Chemistry Group believes that if we can change the way we hire people, we can change the world.

We're offering a limited number of press passes to this event. To secure one, please contact kirstym@thechemistrygroup.com or, to enter the ballot, click here. (<https://thechemistrygroup.typeform.com/to/RIZgLE>)

About The Chemistry Group

We give people the opportunity to be brilliant at work. We're a technology-powered management consultancy, who believe great people are the most important part of every business.

We know one size doesn't fit all, so we always find 'What Great Looks Like' for each organisation and every role we work with. Then we use our technology to find and develop great people.

To learn more please visit our website. (<http://www.thechemistrygroup.com/>)

Email: kirstym@thechemistrygroup.com

Phone: +44 207 629 9565