Oracle Platinum Partner Inoapps (www.inoapps.com) has been appointed as a supplier to the UK Government's G-Cloud 8, the most recent iteration of the Crown Commercial Service's procurement framework for Cloud based computer services, hosted via the Digital Marketplace. The Crown Commercial Service works closely with departments and organisations across the public sector, ensuring that maximum value is extracted from every commercial relationship.

Inoapps has received widespread industry acclaim for the provision of Oracle Cloud solutions (<http://www.inoapps.com/oracle-applications>) and has recently been awarded Oracle's Specialized Partner of the Year Award for Software as a Service 2016. The company's inclusion on G-Cloud 8 reflects this product focus with 17 offerings now available through the framework, including: Infrastructure as a Service, Platform as a Service, Software as a Service and other related Cloud Services.

Commenting on the announcement Victoria Briggs, Head of both Inoapps' Public Sector Vertical Operation and its Enterprise Change division said, "The G-Cloud appointment is a significant recognition of Inoapps' first rate track-record of delivering high quality, cost efficient Oracle Cloud solutions to Public Sector organisations. As part of the framework, Inoapps is now ideally placed to build on its existing successes, by delivering award-winning Oracle Cloud services to an even wider range of Public Sector bodies."

Inoapps has set up a specialised team of highly experienced technical advisors to help Public Sector organisations with all aspects of their Cloud journey. Those wishing to find out more should contact: GCloud@inoapps.com
