

Let's Make Words Not War

Submitted by: Olive Productions

Monday, 27 March 2017

Lisa Johnson: johnson.lisa@mac.com

contact: 07490736910

Event: Monday April 3rd

Location: Cello Factory, Waterloo

Time: 6-9pm

Artist: Mark Dickens

Charity: Home For Good

The event is an exhibition and sale of t-shirts to help raise funds for Home for Good. They are a wonderful charity responding to the refugee crisis by concentrating on finding foster homes for Syrian Orphaned Refugees.

HOME FOR GOOD - <http://www.homeforgood.org.uk>

"Our vision is a home for every child who needs one. We want every child to have a stable, loving home where they can thrive."

The Artist Mark Dickens - <http://www.mark-dickens.com> is more commonly known for his multi media work created for Formula1 and Bernie Ecclestone but Mark has been concentrating his time on creating and printing designs on lovely T-shirts and is launching his "Let's Make Words Not War T-shirts" at home. After a successful event in Brazil involving the children of the Favelas, it is time to launch in London.

Mark is working with organisations around the world in using Words and Art to inspire global communication and in-turn a peaceful future. This event will be focusing on children of war torn countries.

Each t-shirt has a letter with its own design with an arrow to connect to the person beside you.

T-shirts are £20 each and £2 of every sale is going to Home For Good.

<https://www.facebook.com/photo.php?fbid=10155043041557867&set=a.434049377866.218725.575552866&type=3&theater>

<https://twitter.com/markfineartist?lang=en-gb>