Excel Networking Solutions (<https://www.excel-networking.com/>), the copper and optical cabling infrastructure provider, has launched a new Dutch (<https://nl.excel-networking.com/>) version of its mobile friendly website to support the significant growth of sales in The Netherlands.

The Excel Dutch website went live in March and provides customers and users with access to all the features of the site including the online catalogue, resources including catalogues, brochures, case studies, newsletters, videos, 3rd party certificates and much more.

Tracey Calcutt, marketing manager commented 'We are delighted to add Dutch to the site, which is also available in English, French, Spanish, Polish, German and Turkish. The Excel brand is already known in The Netherlands, but with the addition of the website in Dutch this will support the growth and provide useful information to the growing number of installers that are choosing to sell and install Excel.'

Tracey continued 'Through the Partner Area, accredited partners can also process applications for the comprehensive 25 year Excel Warranty. This covers Copper, Fibre and Voice and even Environ Racks when they are installed as part of a total Excel solution. Partners are also able to brand literature with their logo and address details and download Excel logo's and images for their own promotional activities.'

Tracey concluded 'This is great timing for the introduction of the new site as in early May we will launch new products to our fibre solution including high density fibre panels with 144 fibres in 1U, LC fibre cassettes in OM3, OM4 and OS2, LC Uniboot patch cords in standard and Pull Tab options. 2017 is set to be a very exciting year for Excel and the new Dutch website will be a great way to share this information.'
