ARM Global Conference, The Dorchester Hotel, Mayfair, London

Maidenhead, UK – Sword Active Risk, a supplier of specialist risk management software and services, has honoured DATACONS with an EMEA Partner of the Year Award, presented at its London conference, part of the series of Active Risk Manager (ARM) Global Conferences. A partner for over three years, DATACONS has capitalized on the emerging market for Risk Management and Information Security Management in the Czech Republic, signing up a number of new clients in the last year. DATACONS markets, sells, and implements ARM, providing support services to local customers ensuring that user engagement with ARM is optimized to promote a risk based business culture throughout their organizations.

DATACONS customers include government agencies and public sector bodies that are looking to embrace policies and processes to meet public sector governance standards, as well as private organizations looking to meet ISO31000 and ISO27001 international standards.

Cestmir Pail, CEO of DATACONS said; “To succeed in business you need a clear vision, great products and excellent people who support you. In working with Sword Active Risk and ARM, we have gained all of these attributes, to the benefit of DATACONS and our clients.”

Charles Longridge, Director of Sales and Global Partnerships at Sword Active Risk said; “We are delighted to present the EMEA Partner of the Year award to DATACONS who have been instrumental in opening up the emerging market in the Czech Republic. The DATACONS and Sword Active Risk partnership is proving a highly successful model and forms the basis for continued joint expansion in the region.”

The Sword Active Risk Awards are discretionary awards presented to partners and customers for exceptional performance and innovation. Previous recipients include Downer, who won an Innovation Award for its outstanding approach to risk management throughout its organization.

ARM Global Conferences on 11 – 12 July, in Washington DC, and on 28 September in Sydney, Australia. For more information and to book your place visit: (<http://www.armgcc.com/london/>)
