Employees at ethical food firm VBites (<http://www.vbitesfoods.com>) are celebrating after picking up two awards in the space of two days.

On June 22nd 2017, the company was named most innovative brand in the annual Veggie Awards, which acknowledge the best and most exciting veggie products on the market.

And on 24th June 2017, VBites came out top in the 'best vegan meat' category of the Vegan Festival Awards UK 2017.

"We're humbled and proud to have picked up these accolades," said Lee Rockingham, managing director of VBites.

"We're very grateful to all our loyal customers who continue to inspire us daily. We couldn't have done it without them."

Based in Corby, UK, VBites produces over 100 different animal free foods under the VegiDeli, Cheatin', Making Waves and Cheezly brand names.

Everything in its range is made from 100% natural plant based ingredients so free from animal products/derivatives, cholesterol, artificial colours, lactose, hydrogenated fats and GMOs.

As well as being suitable for vegetarians and vegans, VBites foods are ideal too for people with special dietary needs, such as those who are lactose or casein intolerant and those looking for healthier and more ethical lifestyles.

Many VBites' foods are also kosher and halal approved.

VBites has been rated the UK's most ethical vegetarian foods supplier on ten occasions by the Good Shopping Guide.

Its foods are available from good health food stores including Holland & Barrett, at Ocado, Morrisons and online at www.vbitesfoods.com.

VBites also exports to 18 countries worldwide. ENDS
