You shop online, you bank online, you book hotels online... you wouldn't dream of going anywhere else, but do you know which are the "very best websites"? User journey, customer service, good website design.

The eagerly anticipated the mission Good Web Guide Awards celebrate sites with all these attributes, the ones we return to time and time again. This year is more exciting than ever with many exceptional websites entering, from internationally established sites to kitchen table startups. The prestigious judging panel includes journalists Annabel Rivkin and Emilie McMeekan, interiors expert Sophie Conran, Jeff Lynn of Seedrs and brand stylist Fiona Humberstone.

Whilst some entries have not reached the final stages, each and every website entry is valued with many taking part in the weekly interview series, Shine The Spotlight
