Surrey-based signage company Stocksigns Group (<https://www.stocksigns.co.uk>) is set to tackle its biggest charity challenge to date in order to raise funds for the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (<https://www.rospa.com/>) (RoSPA). The Stocksigns team will be climbing Mount Toubkal, North Africa's highest mountain from Friday 18 May 2018 and are hoping to complete the challenge in under 3 days.

The epic challenge involving 12 employees is aiming to raise £4,000 for RoSPA (<https://www.rospa.com>), a charity the company has been supporting for almost a decade. Located within the Toubkal National Park in southwestern Morocco, Mount Toubkal reaches 4,167 metres high.

RoSPA is currently celebrating 100 years of saving lives (<https://www.rospa100.com>) and introduced the Brighter Beginnings Appeal (<http://bit.ly/2skXXNL>) at the start of its centenary year. The appeal focuses on keeping children safe and providing parents with information to help protect their children from accidents.

Rebecca Hickman, RoSPA's Corporate Partnerships Manager, said, "Accidents are the biggest killer of children and young people. Every single week, more than 100 children under the age of five are hospitalised due to accidental poisoning, and a further 60 following a burn or scald. These accidents can change lives forever, or tragically even end them. Yet it doesn't have to be like this, accidents don't have to happen. Our Brighter Beginnings Appeal is raising money to provide vital safety tips and tools to the families most in need. The more money we raise, the more families we can help."

Danny Adamson, Managing Director for Stocksigns Group, said. "We are a proud supporter of RoSPA and this year alone we've tackled the Three Peaks Challenge, cycled the distance to Lapland and held numerous fundraising events. Our fitness and team skills will be put to the test in an unspoiled, natural environment."

Stocksigns Group, which is made up of Stocksigns (<https://www.stocksigns.co.uk>), Messagemaker (<http://www.messagemaker.co.uk>) and First Call Signs (<http://www.firstcallsigns.co.uk>), has provided signage to British businesses for over 60 years. Their dedicated team of experts help companies understand the signage they need and how to ensure they are compliant with the International Organisation for Standardisation (ISO).

A practice walk will be taking place across the North Downs in December. A fundraising site has also been set up and can be found here <https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/stocksigns-team>.
