Looking for a stocking filler for the foodie in your life - then look no more! The Vegetarian Society Cookery School has fun, friendly cookery experiences throughout the year jam packed with flavoursome dishes, terrific techniques and effortless expertise. Rise to the occasion while bread making, take an Indian masterclass or sample stunning street food. Whether you enjoy foraging or trying to 'beat the heat' on a chilli-inspired session, there's a tasty workshop for everyone. Add the icing to your culinary skills with the vegan toolkit or vegan party food course. Visit the Vegetarian Society Cookery School (<https://www.vegsocookeryschool.org>) for the full calendar of courses and to buy online gift vouchers.

There are festive courses too - check out the Delicious Gifts for Christmas workshop.

Alex Connell, Principal Tutor said, "Our experienced and friendly tutors are passionate about teaching you the ins and outs of modern vegetarian and vegan cooking. From a whole range of international cuisines, to vegan classes and showing off the latest trends in the culinary world, nothing puts a smile on our face more than seeing you being delighted to try the delicious creations you get to produce."

To celebrate its love of seasonal cooking the school has compiled its favourite festive dishes for Christmas 2017 and there's something for everyone.
