Buying gifts for dads can be somewhat of a challenging affair. Do you buy him beer or socks? Or beer? Or socks? With Father's Day fast approaching – on June 17th – it's time to get the gift ideas flowing so you can celebrate the man who taught you how to ride a bike, who picked you up at silly o'clock from parties, who even let you win once or twice in a game of footie.

As a nation we love treating our dads to something special on Father's Day – according to Global Data, UK shoppers spend a total of £700 million*.

Whatever the size of your budget, leading high street retailer Robert Dyas (<https://www.robertdyas.co.uk/>) has plenty of gifts to give. With heaps of handy tools, garden equipment and other nifty products, their shelves are filled with inspiration.

"Father's Day is a time to celebrate all the memories we've shared with our dads, from the big things to the little things", says Robert Dyas' Head of Marketing, Rebecca Waters. "Whether your dad's a DIY enthusiast, green-fingered gardener or simply the hard-to-buy-for type, we've got heaps that'll bring a smile to his face. We're even running our #DadTaughtMe campaign soon on social media, featuring videos of sons and daughters telling us treasured memories, to celebrate our amazing dads!"
