The Purple Agency has announced five new appointments to its healthcare team. These include Amy Johnson, creative copy lead, who joins from global agency FCB; Matt Pascoe, art director, whose portfolio includes a range of major TV and leisure brands including Playstation, the BBC, Arsenal FC, ASDA, McDonalds, ITV, and Sky Sports News; Claire Usher, senior account manager, who joins from healthcare agency LVC; and two new life science graduate appointments, Kirsty Batten and Hollie Wigmore who join the agency as junior account managers to strengthen client services.

Says Steve Shaw, head of agency, "We now deliver campaigns for seven of the world's top ten pharmaceutical companies, but we're not resting on our laurels. Continuing to seek out and attract the top talent for our growing healthcare team will enable us to go on expanding our global share of the healthcare sector. These new appointments ensure we have the best people in place to achieve that goal."

Founded ten years ago, Purple is the hybrid marketing agency of Adare International Limited, a £300M global marketing services business.
