Leading medical recruitment consultancy Remedium Partners (<https://www.remEDIUMpartners.com/>), has up-scaled offices for the second time since its inception in 2013 and is now operating from new premises in London's vibrant King's Cross.

Following significant growth over the past five years, with staff headcount and revenue doubling year-on-year, the new 3200 sq. ft premises have the capacity to house up to 50 employees, in line with the company's future expansion plans.

Commenting on the move, Co-founder & Director Philip Braham, said:

"Demand for our services is exceptionally high at the moment. In our first year, we worked with 20 NHS Trusts and placed 42 doctors: today we've partnered with over 70 Trusts and are on course to have placed over 700 doctors by the end of 2018. In order to meet the needs of both our clients and network of overseas doctors, we have a team of 26 working in London, and a further six members of staff based in India. However, we have ambitious growth plans and are consequently seeking to hire a further ten consultants this year alone to ensure we can continue to serve our ever expanding client and candidate base effectively."

Fellow Founder & Director David Green added:

"This is such an exciting time for our business and our team. While our old office couldn't accommodate our rapid expansion, our new headquarters – which boasts a dedicated doctor's lounge, break out spaces, and state of the art working environment for our team - will more than meet our long-term plans."

Established in 2013, Remedium Partners is fast becoming one of the leading providers of permanent and fixed-term doctors into the NHS. At Remedium Partners, we believe that placing permanent and fixed term doctors, rather than locums, saves the health service time and money.

With over 20 years healthcare and recruitment experience collectively, our team truly understand the market we operate in and the qualities of our doctors, best matching them to the needs of our clients. The positions we work on require a unique understanding of medical specialties and our team of highly experienced market specialists, both in the UK and India, enable us to source high calibre candidates from around the world.
