

Snow White and Jungle Book themed gardens to be on display at Southport Flower Show

Submitted by: Everest Home Improvements

Thursday, 26 July 2018

Enchanting garden displays themed around the fairy-tale of Snow White and the timeless classic Jungle Book will be on display at this year's Southport Flower Show, courtesy of the show's headline sponsor Everest Home Improvements.

The Snow White and Jungle Book display gardens, which tie in with the show's 'Once Upon a Time' theme, are being created on behalf of Everest by TV gardener David Domoney. Each will be specially designed by David to look like a real front garden, featuring a front door and window from Everest's wide-ranging collection, while bringing in plants and characteristics inspired by the two popular children's stories.

The gardens will be located alongside the Celebrity Theatre and Everest will also have a stand inside the Theatre to showcase a range of products throughout the show. These include new additions such as the House Beautiful doors collection, which comprises a stunning range of designs and colours; its state-of-the-art acoustic glazing, which keeps unwanted noise outside; and its impressive flush casement uPVC window, which has been designed to resemble a sleek aluminium or classic timber window.

Visitors will also be able to have a look around Everest's new garden room – a versatile space that would provide an appealing and practical addition to any garden. Made from extra thick FSC accredited Scandinavian Redwood timber, which is among the most sustainably-produced timber in the world, it comes complete with Everest's energy efficient windows and doors, while the fully insulated roof, walls and flooring make it useable and comfortable all year round.

Southport Flower Show takes place at Victoria Park from Thursday 16 to Sunday 19 August. The largest independent flower show in the country, it attracts over 50,000 visitors across the four days.

Joanne Holland, CEO of Everest, says: "We're looking forward to returning to Southport Flower Show as headline sponsor again this year. It is a wonderful event, full of beautiful and inspirational creations, and the Once Upon a Time theme this year is sure to add an extra touch of magic. David Domoney's stunning designs for Everest's Snow White and Jungle Book front garden displays certainly provide inspiring examples of how we can be more creative and imaginative when it comes to creating 'kerb appeal' for our homes."

Everest is giving away around 200 tickets to the show via its social media platforms, including five pairs of VIP corporate hospitality tickets. To find out more, search for Everest Home Improvements on Facebook or @EverestHome on Twitter.

Ends

Notes to editors:

Pictured: TV gardener David Domoney is designing Snow White and Jungle Book themed front garden displays

for Everest at the Southport Flower Show

A high-res version of the photo is available upon request

About Everest:

Everest has been at the forefront of innovation in the home improvement industry for over 50 years, offering an impressive range of high quality windows and doors in UPVC, aluminium and timber, as well as conservatories, orangeries and other home improvement products. With factories in Wales and South-East England, each Everest window is custom made and fitted to the exact millimetre. Its products are continuously tested to the latest security standards as well as a number of bespoke tests demonstrating thermal efficiency, strength and more, ensuring that the homes of Everest customers are some of the warmest, safest and most secure in the country.

www.everest.co.uk

About David Domoney:

David Domoney is a Chartered Fellow of the Institute of Horticulture and presents for ITV1 on daytime with This Morning and on prime time, co-presenting Britain's most viewed gardening programme, Love Your Garden with Alan Titchmarsh. This year David selected a rose named 'This Morning' at the Chelsea Flower Show to celebrate 'This Morning' the programme's 30 years on television. David also recently won the Prince Edward Award for Excellence in Horticulture. He has also won 30 Royal Horticultural medals including Gold at Chelsea and a Chelsea Best in Category trophy for show gardens.

You can follow David on Facebook @DavidDomoneyTV, Twitter @daviddomoney, Instagram @daviddomoney, YouTube domoneyltd, and Pinterest @daviddomoney, where he has a combined audience of over a quarter of a million followers.

For further information, contact:

JGMPR

07885 270349