Jermyn Street shirt retailer, owned by Dragon Touker Suleyman, is in the final stages of installing Eurostop CRM software and connected stock systems to increase focus on customer service.

Eurostop, a leading supplier of retail management solutions for fashion, footwear and lifestyle, has announced that Hawes & Curtis, retailer of men's and women's tailored clothing ranges, has recently upgraded to Eurostop's e-pos touch across its stores. The retailer, which has 20 outlets throughout the UK, including its flagship store in Jermyn Street in London's Piccadilly, has installed e-pos touch on all till points, enabling it to provide a more personalised and efficient service at point of purchase. Hawes & Curtis, owned by retail magnate and Dragons' Den panellist Touker Suleyman, already uses Eurostop's e-rmis head office system, linking all sales and stock in its stores, warehouse and website. The Eurostop system is fully installed across all the shops in the group, both Hawes & Curtis and Ghost.

Hawes & Curtis has also implemented Givex's gift card solution. The highly secure system enables the retailer to issue gift vouchers in the form of a physical gift card and track transactions and the available balance of the gift card or voucher throughout its lifetime, enhancing customer retention.

Deborah Loh, Marketing Manager at Eurostop commented; "In the current retail environment, retailers need to go one step further and have the right technology and information to be able to engage with their customers on a personal level, to provide a superior service. Our retail solutions have been designed to support a retailer's operations through every step of the sales cycle and at every customer touchpoint."
