Vawoo helps vape companies manage their online sales as easy as possible.

Vawoo.co.uk, the one of a kind vape marketplace in the UK, is announcing today a new functionality. It will help vape shop owners to organize and manage their sales and stocks in the most effective way. A Warehouse Management System was added to all of Vawoo's existing features.

The goal of the marketplace is to help its partners to coordinate existing profits while providing the customers with the fastest shipping.

The Warehouse Management System is a must-have solution for automating any business processes towards a faster and more efficient performance.

This functionality would allow Vawoo sellers to:

- Manage logistics. Add into the system all of their existing warehouses to be able to choose the optimum one. The application automatically analyses the amount of held products and client's shipping address thus giving the possibility to work with the closest location holding the needed items.
- Track and manage inventory. Export and import products as soon as some changes occur. It offers to be always aware of where and how many products are available in order to plan future inventory replenishment.
- Improve customer service. The orders will be formed and shipped as soon as possible. The application allows assigning a staff member in charge who would be contacted the moment the order is placed. Thus ensuring that the vape goods are delivered accurately, on time and to the required location.

The implemented Warehouse Management System gives e-cigarette shops the possibility to grow their profits by working faster and more effective.
