Pixl8, the London based digital product and creative technical agency today announced the acquisition of Trusted Management a specialist cyber security and risk management consultancy.

The business which has been rebranded Trusted Cyber Solutions will join Pixl8's agency operations in a newly renamed Pixl8 Group.

Alex Skinner, CEO of Pixl8 group commented "Cyber risk and security is the achilles heel of digital transformation and an important strategic consideration for us and our clients.

We continue to grow the scope of services and software solutions we offer and regard cyber security of vital importance.

We've been clients and partners of Trusted Management for many years for network infrastructure design, build and maintenance, cyber security solutions, digital forensics and most recently for GDPR consultancy. Having worked closely with Paul and his team for over 10 years, it is very clear that we share the same core values and business ethos and we're excited by the new opportunities for both our clients and teams."

Paul Overton founder and Managing Director of Trusted Cyber Solutions said:

"I am delighted to move Trusted Management into a more integrated form of digital business. Cyber security now affects all of us in everyday life, our goals are to ensure that users of our products and services are protected in their online life using the best design, strategy and policies available.
We are looking forward to working with Pixl8 to enhance the overall groups products and services."

Work will continue throughout 2018 to bring systems and processes together and to continue to develop Trusted Cyber Solutions product offerings with a particular focus on the needs of membership and subscription based businesses.
