Liverpool fine jewellery house, House Of Dash, to release a diamond earring collection branded "The Caviar Collection." On December 7th 2018, the collection, specifically designed for pierced ears, will be accessible on the official House Of Dash website.

The name of the collection derives from sturgeon roe, Caviar. The setting used for the earrings is known as a pressure setting, meaning there are no visible gaps between the diamonds, mimicking the exotic delicacy.

"This intricate technique creates the illusion of one solitaire stone. But in fact, seven are housed within the mounting." Said Quincy Dash, Creative Director.

The Caviar Collection is constructed in 18k Gold Alloy and is available in three metal colours - White Gold, Yellow Gold and Rose Gold. Set with premium handpicked colourless diamonds and finished with screw back fasteners for absolute security.

Wearable on any occasion, with opportunity to go bigger in size without breaking the bank. Makes the collection the perfect gift and fashion accessory this festive season.

The Caviar Collection will be available to purchase from £395-£1,250 on the official House Of Dash website on 7th December 2018 - www.houseofdash.com
