

Former global leader of financial services at PwC, Nigel Vooght, joins Inforalgo as non-executive chairman

Submitted by: Sarum Consultancy

Monday, 11 February 2019

The high-profile appointment will further fuel Inforalgo's next phase of growth, as the company takes its intelligent cloud-based data automation platform and Regulatory Reporting solutions to the global market

London - February 11th, 2019 - Inforalgo (<http://www.inforalgo.com/>), the Capital Markets data automation specialist, has announced the appointment of Nigel Vooght, the former Global Leader of Financial Services at PwC, as non-executive chairman. He brings over 20 years' experience in the industry to the role, in addition to a deep knowledge of strategy and management.

With detailed first-hand knowledge of the market, its regulatory complexity and use of Fintech and Regtech tools and solutions, Nigel will add significant value to Inforalgo and its clients.

Commenting on his attraction to the post, Nigel said, "Inforalgo is a firmly established and trusted provider of critical, high-impact solutions for solving regulatory complexity and other substantial data management issues in financial markets, particularly capital markets trading. With a new platform that harnesses the cloud and addresses financial institutions' deepest and most cumbersome challenges with speed and agility, Inforalgo is looking at significant market potential."

"We're absolutely delighted that Nigel is joining us, and that he has identified the vital role we play for our clients," added Jordan Ambrose, Inforalgo's CEO. "It isn't always easy to appreciate the behind-the-scenes technology, the clever part that happens in the background - connecting systems, and enabling reliable real-time data feeds and intelligent automation around tracking and reporting. But the capabilities we offer are something fundamental that every financial services organisation needs in this fast-paced, competitive and strictly regulated market. Nigel absolutely recognises that, so this match is a great meeting of minds. We're thrilled to have him on board."

About Inforalgo

Inforalgo's solutions and services are built on more than 30 years' rich experience in providing intelligent data management solutions and services to Capital Markets clients globally. Our team comprises some of the brightest minds in financial data science, who specialise in helping buy and sell-side organisations automate the flow of their pre- and post-trade data. Our products are trusted by many of the world's top financial institutions. More at www.inforalgo.com (<http://www.inforalgo.com/>)

Twitter: @InforalgoNews

PR Contact

Carina Birt, PR for Inforalgo

carina@sarumpr.com or +44 7970 006624