Commenting on the news that energy broker Utilitywise has gone into administration, with almost 600 (<https://www.chroniclelive.co.uk/business/business-news/almost-600-jobs-lost-utilitywise-15830473>) jobs lost, Steve Rawlingson, CEO of energy recruitment consultancy, Samuel Knight International, comments:

“As a local business we are saddened to hear that hundreds of people have been made redundant following the collapse. We want to support those affected by the Utilitywise administration and would be more than happy to hear from, and help, those looking for support in finding a new position. We are also actively recruiting for a number of energy consultant roles to expand our own team and strengthen the business – we would welcome the opportunity to discuss this with those seeking to utilise their skills and experience in the energy field.”
