Award winning business coach Gary Keating of ActionCOACH is hosting a power-packed free business growth seminar at Francis Hotel Bath on 7th March.

Gary will share his knowledge of how business owners can deal with challenges and grow their profits. Many business owners find themselves trapped in a cycle of working IN their business rather than ON it and this seminar will demonstrate how important it is to set time aside to educate yourself as a business owner. You will also learn how to turn your marketing into an investment rather than an expense and how to manage your employee relationships,

Gary explains "Building a business is hard, everyone needs guidance" "I understand how to build the quality of life you envisaged when you started your business in the first place. It is possible to build a business that runs efficiently without you needing to be there the whole time - my wish is to create business abundance in Bristol through business re-education".
