The world's finest wedding show arrives in London on the 29th – 30th of March

Nestled within the heart of one of London's most iconic hotels, the newly renovated Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park, on the 29th and 30th of March 2019 will be the UK's most luxurious bridal brands, some of which are rarely seen at events of this nature. And that's one of the many things that makes the Bridelux experience so special and so absolutely unique.

Established in 2013, Bridelux Atelier has quickly grown to become the world's finest wedding show, with annual events in uptown Manhattan, New York as well as much-established shows in some of the British capital's finest hotels.

Offering a beautifully curated experience for couples who look for the very finest of details for their wedding day, Bridelux Atelier will give guests the opportunity to meet and browse the most prestigious bridal brands, offering an experience that is as exclusive and personal as these events can be.

For the discerning Atelier couple, attention to detail is of paramount importance, and sourcing the finest, design-led products and services is essential. Bridelux aims to offer access to the most exclusive designers, florists and craftsmen across the elite of the bridal industry.

Among the exhibitors at the Mandarin Oriental will be esteemed bridal designers such as Vivienne Westwood and The Wedding Gallery featuring Vera Wang and Reem Acra, florists and event stylists including Farima Perry, much-acclaimed gift list service Prezola and Champagne house Moët & Chandon.
