Dublin – Following their collaboration earlier this year, global smart technology client verification solution provider, Know Your Customer

(https://www.knowyourcustomer.com/?utm_source=media&utm_medium=responsesource&utm_campaign=release&utm_term and leading international facilitator for the issuance of prepaid cards, Axiom Prepaid Holdings

(<https://www.axiomp prepaidholdings.com/>), announce their deeper collaboration with an expanded offering for high-profile FinTech organisations in additional European markets.

Know Your Customer provides a digital solution to global clients across a variety of regulated sectors to quickly and accurately identify and verify companies and individuals during client onboarding, ensuring companies can confidently conduct their KYC and anti-money laundering (AML) functions.

Axiom Prepaid Holdings (APH) is a global independently owned prepaid card issuing firm that works with many of today's high-profile FinTech organisations through innovative and cost-effective white label solutions.

Together the organisations' unique expertise provides end-to-end solution for the issuing and management of white labelled prepaid cards enabling FinTech organisations to meet the current technological and regulatory challenges of the financial sector.

Today's announcement confirms Axiom's market entry expansion into additional EU markets, namely Germany, France, Portugal and Greece. Axiom first established their European company's headquarters in the UK in late 2018. Today's announcement comes on the strength of Axiom's successful roll-out in Spain and Italy in Europe; in Hong Kong and Singapore in Asia (where both KYC and APH have offices and a fast-growing presence); and in Canada and the United States, where APH is headquartered.

Know Your Customer CEO Claus Christensen said of the new collaboration:

"We are delighted to be working closely with Axiom Prepaid Holdings in a variety of strategic high-growth markets. We look forward to continuously providing our expertise and technology to enable faster anti-money laundering checks and a more seamless customer onboarding experience in Germany, France, Portugal and Greece in addition to other established markets."

Steven Foster, President of Axiom Prepaid Holdings, LLC, said:

"With Know Your Customer's automation technology, we have already demonstrated an improvement in the efficiency of our customer onboarding process whilst ensuring jurisdictional regulatory compliance. We are therefore meeting our customer needs with a seamless customer journey and expediting the implementation of our market entry, which we are delighted to announce today."
