- UK's leading Accountancy Body approves MyWorkpapers cloud based workpaper software for use by UK accounting firms

London, 27th June 2019 – Accounting and Audit workpapers software provider, MyWorkpapers (<https://www.myworkpapers.com>) is extremely pleased to announce that its platform and content has been awarded accreditation by the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW) (<https://www.icaew.com/>). The solution has satisfied the ICAEW's robust technical evaluation criteria and is delighted to now be a part of the prestigious accredited software scheme.

Rich Neal of MyWorkpapers said; "We see the ICAEW as a strategic partner in the United Kingdom. We are excited to have had the ICAEW evaluate our solution and give their accreditation to the UK's leading financial workpaper software."

"ICAEW members can be assured that in choosing MyWorkpapers they are not only receiving the cost, functionality and flexibility benefits of the cloud, but also an accounting solution that is secure, compliant and easy-to-use."

Craig McLellan, manager of the ICAEW Accreditation Scheme, commented: "We are delighted that MyWorkpapers has been accredited, as it is the first, and currently only, digital workpapers solution provider to have gone through the rigorous evaluation. With the scheme becoming the benchmark for software used by accountants in both the business and practice markets, we welcome software providers embracing a modern accountancy approach".

About MyWorkpapers

MyWorkpapers is a knowledge distribution and workflow execution platform centred around best practice 'workpapers' and client engagement files – for all work done in the accounting practice. It is not limited to Audit. It can be used for any engagement, for any period – monthly, quarterly, year-end and audits of all types.

We have specialised workpaper packs for any engagement, complete with checklists, workflows, tasks and a library of excel documents integrated in our platform with Office Online. Content is flexible and the way accountants work.
