16th Sept 2019, London, UK – At last week's Accounting Excellence Software Awards, AccountslQ won the much-prized Mid Market and Enterprise Accounting Software of the Year Award, beating competition from rivals Sage, Oracle NetSuite, and Pegasus.

Tony Connolly, founder and CEO, says:

"I am thrilled that AccountslQ has won Mid Market and Enterprise Accounting Software of the Year two years running...it's a reflection of the constant development and innovation of our product and the amazing team we have here at AccountslQ."

Tony adds:

"We are very grateful to our customers who have voted, having rated us on product functionality, ease of use, quality of our support and value for money."

The AccountslQ platform continues to expand functionality and flexibility in response to user demands, offering businesses of all sizes a robust and simple-to-use accounting system that can be maintained across different locations, users and functions. The continuing product developments underline AccountslQ's status as a flexible partner for companies looking for compliance and functionality on a cloud-based accounting system.

Recently AccountslQ also won a ranking in Deloitte Technology Ireland's Fast 50 for the fourth year running, recognising the company's exceptional growth in turnover, and a reflection of the company's commitment to continuous product innovation.
