Law firm Ashfords LLP is delighted to announce the promotion of public sector specialist Lucy Woods to its partnership, in the firm's Exeter office, in the latest round of internal promotions.

Specialising in public sector projects and procurement, Lucy advises government departments, local authorities, public bodies and private contractors. She offers support across the whole project process, working with clients from the outset of structuring a project through until completion and beyond. Lucy has been listed as a local government next generation lawyer by Legal 500 for the last two years.

Another partner promotion has been announced in Ashfords' Bristol office – Suzie Miles in the firm's IT and technology team, bringing the total number of partners in the firm to 76. Ashfords has also promoted 1 person to Senior Associate and 10 people to Associate.

Louise Workman, partner and head of client services at Ashfords LLP commented: "Lucy is a standout public sector lawyer and a tremendous asset to the firm - I'm delighted to congratulate her on the recent promotion."

Lucy added: "I am very excited to join the partnership as our public sector practice continues to go from strength to strength."
