Anthem Publishing and Select Publishing will allow LeKiosk to tap into brand new categories including Food & Drink and Arts & Craft as well as strengthen its Music, Sports & Fitness, Tech & Computers and Holiday & Travel categories with the addition of 30 new titles to its catalogue.

Bath-based Anthem Publishing is one of the UK's most dynamic and fastest growing magazine publishers, particularly in food and music. Its Vegan Food & Living is the UK's top-selling vegan magazine, Simply Vegan is the second best seller. Food Heaven is the UK's best-selling baking magazine and Gluten-Free Heaven is the UK's first and best-selling gluten-intolerance title. Anthem also creates award winning artist celebration magazines as well as innovative series like The Bowie Years

Select Publishing, founded by Tim Harris in August 2005, publishes a wide range of publications particularly in arts and crafts with titles such as Flower Arranger and Inside Crochet. Other titles include Vegetarian Living, the best selling magazine for a healthier, cruelty free lifestyle and Writers' Forum, the magazine for all writers.

"We are delighted to welcome Anthem and Select and their diverse range of publications to LeKiosk. Together we will be able to offer users the possibility to discover titles on their interests or introduce them to new ones."

The partnership between LeKiosk and these award-winning publishers is mutually beneficial as LeKiosk will support Anthem and Select on extending their digital press offering and introducing their publications to new readers.

Verity Travers, Head of Marketing & Production says, "Anthem is delighted to partner with LeKiosk. We will be adding 5 regular-frequency titles to their newly created Food & Drink category, as well as numerous special editions. In fact, all of our titles, including Women's Running, Italia and our extensive music portfolio will be added to the platform. We are excited to be able to increase the discoverability of our magazines by streaming our content on LeKiosk. The app is easy to use and reader-friendly and will give us another way to connect with our readers, and hopefully find some new ones!"
